VOL. XI. NO. 3. COLORADO SPRINGS, SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1875. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

Pikes Peak Avenue Can Now Boast of a Stone Sidewalk.

Work on the stone sidewalk on the south side of Pikes Peak avenue, between Tejon and Cascade streets, was completed yesterday afternoon, and the pedestrian public can now walk dryshod from the Antlers to the Mansion. The walk is twelve feet wide, and is laid with large flagstones from the quarry of Messrs. Hagerman & Dale, on Fountain creek. The work was done by Mr. Thomas Nicholson, who has had a force of men employed on it for the past two weeks. The walk is a handsome piece of work, and will be a great convenience to the public. Mr. Nicholson is now at work on the sidewalk on the north side of Pikes Peak avenue, between Tejon and Cascade streets, and will push the work to completion as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Greeley's Lecture.

Mr. Horace Greeley lectured in the Opera House last evening to a fair audience, on the subject of "Socialism, Communism, Fourierism, and Other Isms." The lecture was a rambling, disconnected affair, and was delivered in a very poor manner. Mr. Greeley is not a lecturer, and he should never attempt to appear before the public in that capacity. He has a fine voice, but he does not know how to use it, and his delivery is very monotonous. He has a habit of reading his lectures, and of looking down at his manuscript all the time, which detracts very much from the interest of his remarks. The lecture was not up to the standard of Mr. Greeley's writings, and was a disappointment to those who had expected a rare intellectual treat. Mr. Greeley is a man of ideas, and has the courage of his convictions, but he is not a public speaker, and should never attempt to lecture.

GOVERNOR ROUTT.

To the Editor of the Gazette.

SIR: Nothing from the Territoria papers that consequence to interest is manifested concerning the antecedents of our new Governor, Gov. Routt, and seeing that the information, so far, is gathered mainly from newspaper correspondence, perhaps a word from another source may be of some worth.

Since 1859, [illegible] personal acquaintance with Gov. Routt; and, during the War and afterwards, was more or less intimately personal and political by reason of my coming to Colorado from personal knowledge, therefore, I would say that in this case the statement of the Ohio correspondent is [illegible]

John [illegible] Routt never has been an office seeker or office hunter in the ordinary sense of the word, though, before the War, he held an Collectorship of Internal Revenue and [illegible] administrative capacity was called to the attention of such men as Gen. Grant, Sherman, and [illegible] influence gave him [illegible] the most useful [illegible]
